

Cost of Attendance 2026-2027

The Cost of Attendance (or COA) is estimated from various components determined by federal regulations, and includes both direct costs (like tuition and housing) and indirect costs (like transportation). The COA chart available below provides estimated expenses for a full time student based on program. These amounts are useful in calculating the overall costs you are likely to incur when enrolling with the College, and are used in awarding financial aid funds. As these are estimates, please note that if you enroll less than full time, the amounts will be reduced.

Please Note: Full time enrollment for graduate programs is considered nine (9) credits.
